

Katie Pribyl
Director, Communications

General Aviation Manufacturers Association

Katie Pribyl joined the General Aviation Manufacturers Association (GAMA) in 2005 where she serves as the worldwide industry spokesperson for the manufacturers of general aviation airplanes, engines, avionics and related equipment.

Katie came to GAMA from Phaneuf Associates where she supported the Federal Aviation Administration's National Aviation Safety Data Analysis Center by conducting studies and performing assessments of aviation safety data. Prior to her employment at Phaneuf, she was a line pilot on the Canadair Regional Jet (CRJ) with Atlantic Coast Airlines/Independence Air, where she also worked with the company's air carrier certification team for Atlantic Coast Jet – Delta Connection.

Additionally, Katie sits on the board of senior advisors to the National Intercollegiate Flying Association and is a founding board member of the Flight School Association of North America.

Katie is a commercial pilot with 4,000 hours of flight experience and she is also a certified flight instructor. A native of Great Falls, Montana, Katie graduated from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in Prescott, Arizona with a Bachelor of Science in Aeronautical Science.